

STUDENT FOR STRATEGIC PROJECTS AND OPERATIONS AT IFU, BASED IN COPENHAGEN

Are you looking for a student job where you can contribute to progressing the green transition and improving living conditions in developing countries and emerging markets? Then IFU, the Investment Fund for Developing Countries, is a good place to start.

We are hiring a student, who is motivated and passionate about working with commercial and sustainable investments that create impact in countries across Africa, Asia, Latin America and parts of Europe.

You will work in Strategic Projects and Operations and assist in executing strategic initiatives to ensure best-practice operations in IFU's investment activity and IFU's ability to create impact in the green transition and build social, sustainable businesses. You will work closely with the Director for Strategic Projects and Operations and IFU's CIO to develop our strategy and define and drive the projects to execute it. Your work will have impact across IFU, and you will work with colleagues across the organisation.

As a student in IFU, you will get familiar with how we work and create impact through investments in developing countries and get exposure to the investment process and impact creation work, working with experienced colleagues and other students.

IFU is Denmark's Development Finance Institution, striving to be a best-in-class impact investor. We think innovatively about ways to deploy our capital, attract and mobilise other investors, and drive transformational and sustainable impact in developing countries and emerging markets. We offer a diverse and inclusive working environment with strong values like teamwork, a "can-do" attitude and being proper in our daily work.

THE JOB

Your tasks will be to:

- Identify and conduct analysis of IFU's pipeline and investment data to create insights for strategy and decision-making
- Support the different strategic and operational projects
- Draft presentations to be used for internal meetings and for IFU's board
- Help define and drive improvements to IFU's core processes through process adjustments and development of tools and templates
- Carry out reoccurring tasks like supporting our portfolio management processes (active ownership) and serve IFU's committees

Joining IFU, you will gain a job in a unique international investment fund, and you will be part of the team of students across IFU, who are assisting and helping in key areas of the organisation.

Your work schedule will be flexible, 15-20 hours weekly, taking exams into consideration.

QUALIFICATIONS

You are enrolled in a relevant university degree and are close to completing your bachelor, and you plan to continue with a relevant master's, or you have just started on your master's.

- You are fluent in English, both written and spoken
- You are an experienced user of Microsoft Office, especially Excel and PowerPoint
- You have strong analytical skills

APPLICATION

Send your CV and motivated application from your own email to job2@ifu.dk as soon as possible. We will screen applications and conduct interviews on a continuous basis. Please state where you learned about the job.

We expect to hire the student no later than 1 May 2022.

For further information, please go through IFU's website. If you have any questions, please contact Morten Buur Madsen, Director Strategic Projects and Operations, +45 33 44 12 49 or send them in an email to job2@ifu.dk and we will revert to you.
